MEMORANDUM FOR: Ben Evans and [REDACTED]

I have no problem with the draft letter for Mr. [REDACTED] but it would be my advice that the Director not get directly involved in this one and therefore not sign the letter going back to [REDACTED] unless he has strong personal reasons for doing so. Who knows what [REDACTED] might do in future possibly at some institution we recommended. I acknowledge that he may be in good shape now but this is no assurance against a future outbreak. In my Consular days we would start off a letter for the Chief by saying "Mr. Bush has asked me to answer your letter, etc., etc., etc." If you wish, I could sign it but you may have other people you would prefer to use for this.
